STANDPIPE SPRINGS A LEAK. Trees and shrubbery around the city standpipe on E. State St. east of Madison are coated with ice after the water reservoir sprung a leak. The small spray of water was caught by the wind and showered about, giving bushes underneath a pretty coating of ice. Repairs to the standpipe will have to await warmer weather.

Taft Key Man To Save Denham

Truman Proposal On NLRB May Bring Fight

WASHINGTON, March 14—(UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio was viewed today as the key figure in determining the fate of President Truman's plan to abolish Robert N. Denham's job as counsel for the National Labor Relations board.

There was no immediate reaction from Mr. Taft, who was touring his home state.

But it was considered a good bet here that he would oppose the plan despite his indicated willingness last year to accept this basic change in the Taft-Hartley law.

Mr. Denham has been a constant target of criticism from organized labor since he was named chief prosecutor of the Taft-Hartley act in the independent general counsel's job created by the law.

Mr. Truman proposed abolishing the job—and the return of the prosecuting functions to control of the board itself—in one of 21 government reorganization plans sent to Congress yesterday.

Each plan would become effective in 60 days unless vetoed by the House or Senate. They were referred to the executive committee of each body.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D) of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate committee, predicted that the labor law plan would have "pretty tough sledding" if Sen. Taft opposes it. Although he has supported the Taft-Hartley law, Sen. McClellan said he has an "open mind" at present on Mr. Truman's proposal.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D) of Minnesota, a Taft-Hartley foe and committee member, endorsed the plan. He said the labor act violated the general "administrative procedure act" by making Mr. Denham's office independent of the board and noted that the Senate did not propose continuing the setup in the Taft-sponsored labor bill approved last year.

Referring to long-standing disagreements between Mr. Denham and the board, Sen. Humphrey said the situation is "deplorable if not critical" and that Mr. Truman's plans might restore harmony.

The independent office was created to meet complaints that the labor board formerly acted as prosecutor, judge and jury in unfair labor practice cases. Mr. Denham and the board have been quarreling over the extent of his authority.

Clementis Quits Czech Post

Last Red Link With War Cabinet Severed

LONDON, March 14—(AP)—The Czechoslovak telegraph agency announced today that Czech Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis has resigned.

The agency report, broadcast by the Prague radio, was heard in London.

It said Communist Premier Antonin Zapotocky announced the resignation at a cabinet meeting today, saying Clementis had handed him the resignation personally.

Zapotocky recommended that President Klement Kottwald accept the resignation, the report said, and the president did so.

The broadcast said the foreign ministry had been given to Vice Premier Vilam Siroky.

Rumors began in Lake Success last summer that Clementis was out of favor with the Communist regime.

Some diplomats at the United Nations had speculated that Clementis would resign his post and seek political refuge in the United States.

At the height of this speculation, his wife went from Prague to New York and later accompanied him on his return to Czechoslovakia.

Clementis was the last link between the new Communist government and the old Czech government in exile in London during the war.

Tossing Seas Hit Presidential Fun

ABOARD THE U. S. S. WILLIAM C. LAWE, March 14—(AP)—The White House yacht Williamsburg tossed on through heavy seas today, carrying President Truman and his aides on a three weeks vacation trip to Key West, Fla.

There wasn't much vacation joy aboard last night, although any surge of seasickness was denied. Stormy swells have kept most members of the President's party in their cabins since the yacht sailed Sunday. Mr. Truman stayed in bed all day yesterday. Official word was that his meals were "light."

That should have pleased his physician, Brig. General Wallace H. Graham. He wants the President to lope off several of his 175 pounds.

But newsmen aboard this destroyer escorting the Williamsburg had no word from Graham. They did hear that four members of the party turned out for dinner. That was two less than at lunch.

The forecast for most of today was for winds up to 35 knots with swells "rough to very rough."

The Williamsburg was due to pass 65 miles east of Savannah, Ga., this afternoon. She's expected to reach Key West Thursday.

Killer Of Texas Sheriff Hunted By Huge Posse

Old West Air Prevails; Fugitive Flees In Hills

MARFA, Texas, March 14—(AP)—The hunt for the killer of a Texas sheriff today had all the elements of a wild west thriller—a hand-cuffed fugitive afoot in a rugged mountain chain, pursued by the armed posse on horseback.

Grim-faced sheriffs of the Big Bend country of Southwest Texas, Texas Rangers and border riders were to ride at dawn—gun belts buckled tight—seeking again the trail of the unidentified slayer.

The shooting early Sunday of Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow, 43, on a lonely mountain road flipped back the pages of time to the days of the old West.

It brought back the posse on horseback—booted men packing six-shooters; the sign cutters—men who can read a story in a smashed cactus, a scuffed patch of grass.

Texas Ranger Cowsett rode into Marfa late last night and said a mounted posse had tracked the killer to Morrow 15 miles through rugged mountains, but lost his trail near the Mexican border.

Cowsett was to lead the posse again this morning. River riders patrolled the Rio Grande through the night to prevent the killer from slipping into Mexico—if he hasn't done so.

Morrow, a popular Navy veteran serving his second term, was shot and left dying early Sunday on a lonely road between here and Presidio, nestling against the Rio Grande. The sheriff, blood pouring from a hole through the left side of his body, managed to get into his car and drive a mile toward Presidio before he died.

The shooting occurred about 11 miles north of Presidio, midway between there and Shafter, a ghost silver and lead mining town.

Cowsett said his posse—made up of officers who are experienced horsemen and trackers—picked up the trail about half a mile from the spot where Morrow's car ran into a ditch when he died.

Leopold, Premier Discuss King's Return

GENEVA, March 14—(INS)—Belgian Premier Gaston Eyskens arrived in Geneva today to discuss with King Leopold III a possible decision on whether the exiled monarch will continue efforts to regain his throne.

Eyskens, who arrived in Geneva shortly after 11 a. m., was to go immediately to Leopold's residence in nearby Pregny.

(Entirely unconfirmed rumors circulated in Brussels, meanwhile, that Leopold will return to Belgium on Thursday.)

The Premier departed from Brussels following a cabinet meeting to confer with Leopold on whether the King has arrived at any decision as a result of Sunday's referendum in which only a slender majority of voters expressed a desire for his return.

Leopold polled 57.68 percent of the vote. Previously he had said that if he did not win more than 55 he would abdicate in favor of his son, Prince Baudouin, 19.

House Group Shelves Aid To Education Bill

WASHINGTON, March 14—(AP)—The House labor committee today shelved federal aid to education but immediately turned to consideration of a school construction program.

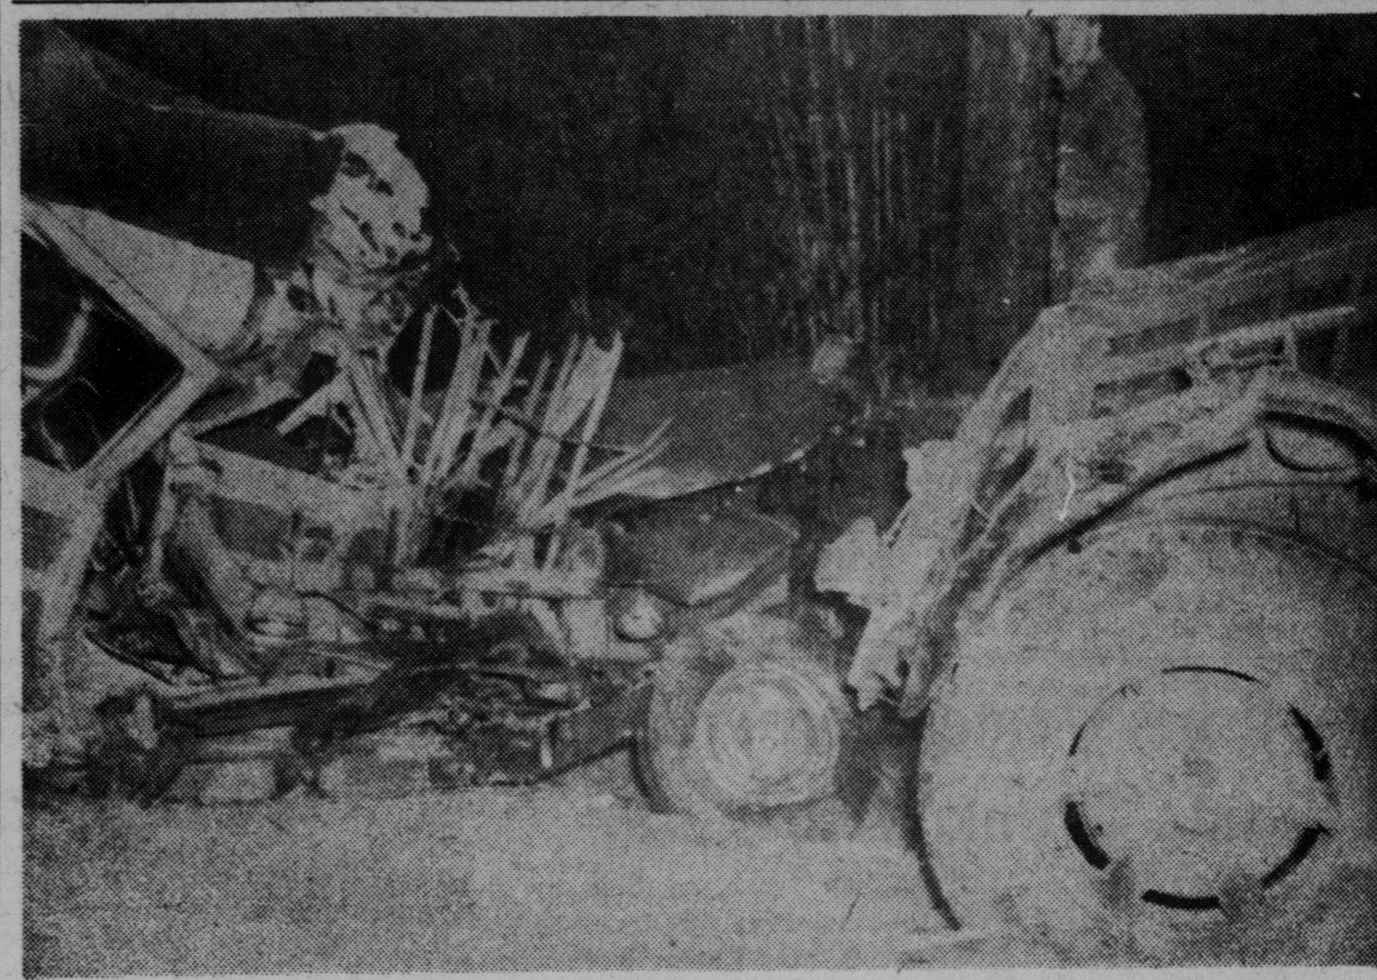

Committee members leaving a closed door session reported the committee voted 13 to 12 to reject the Senate-passed bill providing $300,000,000 for school assistance to the states.

The committee had been trying for nearly six weeks to crack the deadlock which had blocked House action on the measure.

Christoffel Is Sentenced

2 To 6 Years Given Ex-Red Labor Boss

WASHINGTON, March 14—(AP)—Harold Christoffel, former Milwaukee labor leader, was sentenced today to two to six years in prison on a charge of lying to a congressional committee.

Christoffel was convicted last month for a second time on a perjury charge. A federal court jury found he had lied when he denied under oath to the House Labor committee that he had never been a Communist.

The sentence imposed today by Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts was the same as Christoffel received after his first conviction in 1948.

The Supreme Court threw out the first conviction.

Judge Letts today sentenced Christoffel to two to six years on each of the five counts but ruled that the sentences be served concurrently.

In reversing Christoffel's first conviction, the Supreme Court held the government had not proved that a quorum, or at least 13, of the 25 members of the House committee were present when Christoffel testified before it on March 1, 1947.

At the second trial, the government produced testimony by 14 members of the committee that they were present. Defense Attorney John Rogge contended later in arguments that some of the congressmen perjured themselves in so testifying.

The committee at the time it questioned Christoffel was looking into Communist influences in some labor unions.

Christoffel is a former president of Local 248 UAW-CIO at the Milwaukee plant of Allis-Chalmers.

Alliance Judge Tries New Methods

ALLIANCE, March 14—Municipal Court Judge Harry Wyckoff has adopted a policy which may have far-reaching effects in the aiding and rehabilitating of repeat offenders in his court.

Judge Wyckoff used this policy in two cases Monday when Huston Findley, 19, pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny. Sentence was deferred for 30 days while the youth receives treatment at the Stark County Guidance Clinic at Canton.

Earlier the judge fined Mrs. Lucille Mary Brithart, 30, $100 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge. The judge held the fine in abeyance and ordered Mrs. Brithart to take treatment at a state medical center in Columbus.

Judge Wyckoff stated that wherever possible he intends to use the state or county correctional institutions or medical centers to aid in stopping habitual offenses as well as to give proper services to aid the individual.

FBI Undercover Agent To Tell How Reds Aided Wallace

WASHINGTON, March 14—(INS)—An FBI undercover agent will tell House spy probes today how Communists allegedly influenced Henry Wallace's Progressive party in the Pittsburgh area.

Matthew Cvetic, a secret government informant who posed for seven years as a loyal Communist, will take the stand before the UnAmerican activities committee. He plans to name party members who actively supported the Progressive ticket in the 1948 presidential campaign.

He is also set to list contributions made by Communists to the Wallace cause in Western Pennsylvania.

Cvetic is to document his testimony with secret Communist papers from 80 pounds of records on the party and its front organizations which he has turned over to the House group.

He is also slated to make similar disclosures of Communist influence and support of the American Slav Congress, often cited by the committee as a front organization.

In testimony last month, Cvetic told the committee that the Progressive party organization in the Pittsburgh area was "Communist controlled."

He also related that in late 1947, he and another "known Communist," George Wuchinich, conferred with Wallace and C. B. "Beany" Baldwin, later the executive president's campaign manager, in a Pittsburgh hotel room on the prospects of a third party move.

He said that Wallace and Baldwin inquired how many votes the American Slav Congress could deliver to a new party.

Dealing only with two organizations—the Labor Youth League and the Civil Rights Congress—Cvetic identified approximately 75 additional Western Pennsylvania Communists yesterday.

Last month, he named 146. It was expected that his further testimony will bring out the identity of at least 60 more.

Major disclosure made by Cvetic yesterday was that the Labor Youth League—which he identified as the latest Communist-front youth group—has enlisted nearly 6,000 members in 13 states and the District of Columbia.

The records showed members in Pennsylvania, California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Texas, Utah, Wisconsin and the District of Columbia.

Membership figures of the League obtained from Communist records revealed that it has nearly doubled in size between Dec. 5, 1949, and mid-February of this year. The December figures showed an enrollment of young workers and students of 3,680 and the February list showed a membership of 5,879.

Committee Counsel Frank Tavenner emphasized that a recent membership drive has resulted in "substantial gains" and that scores of college and high school students are signing up.

Cvetic also made public records showing that a League campaign for funds netted contributions totalling $34,507.17, of which $11,735.57 went to national headquarters in New York City.

Attlee Girds For 3rd Attack

Laborites Weather Test On Housing

LONDON, March 14—(AP)—Britain's Labor government, victorious in two crucial policy tests, mobilized its slim majority in the House of Commons today to beat down a third Conservative attack on Laborite spending policies.

By rounding up every available Laborite member, including some from sick-beds Prime Minister Attlee's government last night won a 25-vote majority against the Tory motion criticizing its housing record. The vote was 314 to 289.

The first test came last week, only a few days after the newly elected Labor government, with its majority in the House of Commons whittled to only six seats, began its second term. That vote showed a Labor victory of only 14 votes against Conservative Leader Winston Churchill's attacks on the government's program to nationalize the iron and steel industry.

Under the British parliamentary system, the government must resign if it loses a vote on any important issue. It is doubtful that even the Conservatives really want to topple the government and go through another election so soon after last month's poll.

Churchill's demands for three votes of confidence within a week were interpreted by observers as harassing tactics to keep the Labor government under pressure and to build up issues for the next election campaign.

Chamber Of Commerce Told Firm's History

R. C. DuBrucq traced the history of the Crescent Division of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co., at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday noon at the Lape hotel. He was introduced by President Alroy Bloomberg.

In reviewing the activities of the nearby Leetonia plant, Mr. DuBrucq said the company was founded in 1894 with a capital of $125 and started to manufacture lumber mill equipment. In 1945 it was acquired by the Rockwell company which gave it needed capital and additional sales outlets.

The Crescent is the largest plant in Leetonia and still specializes in woodworking machinery but in recent months has added other lines. Mr. DuBrucq is general manager and vice president of the company.

Jessup Returning To Answer Sen. McCarthy

PARIS, March 14—American ambassador at large Dr. Philip C. Jessup announced that he is flying back to the United States today to give immediate answers to charges that he was "friendly with Communists." The assertion was made against the roving ambassador by Wisconsin Republican Senator Joseph R. McCarthy.

Ebright Calls For Economy

Hits Federal Waste In Speech Here

"War should be declared on excessive governmental expenditures, and 1950 is the year when the Republican party must put an end to the spending spree of those attempting to scuttle the financial ship of state," Don Ebright, Republican candidate for governor, declared here today.

Ebright made most of his commitments at conferences with Columbiana county party leaders. He spoke also at the meeting of the Rotary Club in the Memorial building at noon.

"There is altogether too much dissipation and misuse of governmental funds," Ebright said "and the Republicans must be given the job of safeguarding the nation and the state of Ohio from the threat of bankruptcy."

"That threat certainly is upon us. It becomes more evident every day," he added.

Ebright said "Governor Lausche promised general economy in Ohio government but his appropriation bill was the highest in Ohio history. During his first year the Lausche administration spent more than any other administration in Ohio history," he declared.

Ebright said the aid for the aged division of the department of public welfare is an outstanding example that economy has not been part of the Lausche program.

"More money has been spent in the division of aid for the aged on personnel services than during any other comparable period in Ohio history," he declared.

"Let's look at the national level," Ebright continued. "The spenders of the handout administration in Washington are trying to purge Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia. Why? Because he and

Child Movie Star Flees Foster Home

HOLLYWOOD, March 14—(AP)—Lora Lee Michel, nine-year-old child movie actress, ran away from her foster parents' home last night and deputies said she reiterated a complaint that she was being starved so that she could play little girl roles.

The sheriff's office reported that the girl fled in her pajamas last night shortly after Mrs. Lorraine Michel, 55, her foster mother, had left her saying her bedtime prayers.

She was found by Rev. Elford Sundstrum, pastor of the United Brethren Church, in nearby Burbank. He phoned deputies. The minister told officers that Lora Lee arrived at his house in a cab at about 10 o'clock last night. He quoted her as saying:

"I had to get away. I couldn't stand it any longer."

The minister then told the deputies that the child said she was hungry and had lost ten pounds in the last month. He said he took her to a drive-in cafe and bought her a cheese sandwich, a piece of pie and milk.

Mrs. Michel had noted the child's disappearance about 9:30 p. m. and, after a frantic search of the neighborhood, notified the sheriff's office.

At a custody hearing Feb. 8, a superior judge had advised the Michels to take the girl out of the movies and back to Texas so that she might enjoy a normal childhood. The foster parents agreed but recently Lora Lee was reported back at her movie job.

Says Duran, Ex-Red Colonel, Got High Post

Lists Many Others In Broad Claims Before Committee

WASHINGTON, March 14—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) charged today the State Department gave a high post to a former Spanish Republican army officer, Gustavo Duran, although U. S. Army reports labelled him a Russian agent.

Continuing to detail to a senate investigating committee his contention that the department has employed poor security risks, McCarthy also said that:

Dr. Harlow Shapley, American delegate to a United Nations commission, has been affiliated with at least 36 Communist-front organizations.

A reported sexual pervert—he did not identify the person—had been "allowed to resign" from the State Department in 1948 and now is employed by the central intelligence administration at $12,000 a year.

He has heard reports that John Stewart Service, American consul at Calcutta, was considered a bad security risk by the loyalty appeal board of the Civil Service Commission in a decision reached last March 3.

McCarthy asked the Senate investigators to check on this.

Dr. Frederick L. Schuman of Williams College, who has been employed to give training lectures to U. S. diplomats, "is one of the closest collaborators in and sponsors of Communist-front organizations in America."

Duran was employed by the State Department Jan. 30, 1943, as a special assistant at Havana, where Spruille Braden then was ambassador. Duran came to Washington and was Braden's assistant when Braden was assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs.

Duran resigned from the State Department in 1946—the same year that Braden left it. McCarthy said Duran's resignation followed "intense congressional pressure and criticism."

McCarthy said Duran is now employed by the United Nations and told the Senate foreign relations subcommittee hearing his charges that it ought to find out "how men like Duran shift from the State Department to the United Nations."

"Just using common sense," he said, "we know someone in the State Department is shifting them over."

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) promised the committee will find out who this person is.

"We don't know who it is, but we'll find out," Tydings said.

Duran denied that he was ever a Communist after McCarthy mentioned his name in the speech last month.

As for Shapley, McCarthy said he was prominent in the affairs of the Scientific and Cultural conference for World Peace which met in New York in March 1949. McCarthy said that organization was "nothing more than a Soviet-Communist meeting."

He added that Secretary of State Acheson denounced the conference as "a sounding board for Communist propaganda."

McCarthy said John Peurofoy, Deputy Undersecretary of State, had said Shapley never had been a State Department employee.

As of yesterday, McCarthy said, Duran was employed as a representative of the International Refugee Organization, an agency of the United Nations.

McCarthy was before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee to continue detailing his charges that the State Department has kept poor security risks on its payroll.

He had previously named Duran in a speech Feb. 12 at Reno, Nev. at that time Duran said in New York that "I am not now, nor ever have been, a Communist sympathizer."

Duran also said an FBI investigation had cleared him completely after charges that he sympathized with the Communists were first made against him some five years ago. Duran, a Spanish-born naturalized citizen, said that during the Spanish civil war he was a lieutenant-colonel in "the legal, Spanish Republican army," not in the international brigade.

17 Salem Girl Scouts Given Curved Bar, Highest Award

The Curved Bar, highest award in Girl Scouting, was presented 17 Salem Girl Scouts in a court of awards ceremony Saturday afternoon in the Salem High School auditorium.

Twelve of them were from Troop 1, of which Mrs. Glenn Whinnery and Mrs. Francis H. Waiwaiole are leaders, while the other five were troop 3, of which Mrs. Vaughn Nichols and Mrs. Otis Flick are leaders.

The bars were presented by Mrs. Robert Eddy, president of the Salem Girl Scout Council, and Mrs. Whinnery to the following:

Nancy Cosma, Marilyn Dodge, Marjorie Jensen, Anne Mawhinney, Nancy Miller, Jane Myers, Marjorie Nestor, Kay Paxson, Joan Petras, Sally Risbeck, Betty Lou Slaby, Martha Lou Whinnery, Shirlene Bowman, Sandra Kroner, Carol Middeker, Barbara Nichols and Glenna Whinnery. Three other girls—Phyllis Flick, Marian Probst and Anna Shafer received this award last year.

This event marked the opening of the celebration here of the 38th anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Two hundred and sixteen awards were made, after which a Girl Scout film, "World Friendship," was shown.

Mrs. Fred Filler, registrar, assisted by Mrs. Michael Schuller, office secretary, distributed the five-year membership pins. Six of them were given adults.—Mrs. Filler, Mrs. Frederick Barkhoff, Jr., Mrs. Whinnery, Mrs. Martin Debnar, Mrs. George Stowe and Mrs. Robert Lopenan.

The Girl Scouts receiving these pins were:

Sally Risbeck, Nancy Cosma, Marjorie Jensen, Anne Mawhinney, Jane Myers, Joyce Cosgrove, Peggy McIntire, Rose Marie Faini, Lynn Patterson, Anne Stowe, Jacqueline Welsh, Anne Holzbach, Barbara Beery, Anne Hansteen, Jan Lieder, Betsy Moore, Marilyn Litty, Heather Lozier, Carol McQuillin and Patty Ross.

Deanna Heston, Marcia Kille, Melissa Layton, Kay Pasco, Carol Debnar, Carrie McFeely, Norma Alexander, Jo Anne Conser, Barbara Ross, Helen Gottschling, Joan Domencetti, Loraine Warren, Shirley Zoccolo and Marian Probst.

Thirty-four girls received the Senior Service Scout badge. This is the first time in the history of local Scouting that this award was made. Names of the girls are: Shirlene Bowman, Lois Christian, Joyce Cosgrove, Janet Critchfield, Rose Marie Faini, Shirley Fox, Joyce Groves, Glenalee Harris, Sandra Kroner, Carol Middeker, Sally Moore and Barbara Nichols.

Ingrid Nyberg, Lynn Patterson, Pat Parana, Pat Schmid, Jean Schuller, Anna Shafer, Jocelyn Snyder, Ann Stowe, Glenna Whinnery, Judy Jackson, Phyllis Flick and Patty Drotleff.

Norma Alexander, Louise Bauman, Hazel Blickenstaff, Sally Calladine, Jean Conser, Marilyn Kerr, Barbara Martin, Jeanne Probst, Barbara Ross and Vonda Sponseller.

Mrs. James Rawsthorne, service chairman, and Miss Elizabeth Ward, public relations chairman, gave out the service hour pins. Fifteen girls received 50-hour pins. Their names are:

Nancy Cosma, Marilyn Dodge, Anne Mawhinney, Jane Myers, Kay Paxson, Sally Risbeck, Barbara Whitacre, Rosemary Helman, Marjorie Nestor, Joan Petras, Martha Whinnery, Barbara Nichols and Joanne Probst.

Twenty-five hour pins were presented these 46 girls:

Nancy Cosma, Margaret Criss, Marilyn Dodge, Rosemary Helman, Marjorie Jensen, Anne Mawhinney, Nancy Miller, Jane Myers, Marjorie Nestor, Kay Paxson, Joan Petras, Sally Risbeck, Betty Lou Slaby, Dorothy Vogelhuber, Martha Lou Whinnery and Barbara Whitacre.

Dorothy Watterson, Donna Cocco, Rebecca Bonfert, Mary Campbell, Elizabeth Day, Ruthann Greenwood, Kathleen Hamilton, Deanna Heston, Charlotte Holloway, Janice Jeffries, Marcia Kille, Melissa Layton, Peggy Ann Martin, Carrie McFeely, Kay Pasco, Victoria Paparodis and Sharlene Sanlo.

Curtice Loop, Kay Ward, Carol Debnar, Nancy Dieringer, Janet Critchfield, Sandra Kroner, Joan Schuller, Rose Marie Faini, Lynn Patterson, Carol Middeker, Anna Shafer, Joyce Groves and Pat Schmid.

Thirty-nine girls were given First Class badges. Their names follow:

Dorothea Wright, Mary Unger, Patty Ross, Roberta Blount, Mary Ann Horstman, Rita Joseph, Jackie Julian, Janice Maxim, Helen Yeager, Barbara Wright, Susan Watterson, Nancy Cosma, Marilyn Dodge, Rosemary Helman, Marjorie Jensen, Anne Mawhinney, Nancy Miller, Jane Myers, Marjorie Nestor, Kay Paxson, Joan Petras, Sally Risbeck, Dorothy Vogelhuber and Martha Lou Whinnery.

Rebecca Bonfert, Mary Campbell, Elizabeth Day, Ruthann Greenwood, Kathleen Hamilton, Deanna Heston, Charlotte Holloway, Janice Jeffries, Marcia Kille, Melissa Layton, Peggy Martin, Carrie McFeely, Kay Pasco, Victoria Paparodis and Sharlene Sanlo.

The 25 girls who received Second Class badges are:

June Bailey, Judith Bowman, Shirley Gathers, Irene Hall, Marcia Henning, Mary Mercer, Ada Sturgell, Ruth Woolfe, Marilyn Perrine, Jean Yarian and Barbara Young.

The celebration was arranged by Mrs. Barkhoff, chairman of the program committee, and Mrs. Filler, Mrs. Amil Cosma, Mrs. Paul Harrington, Mrs. James Gregg, Mrs. Donald Mathews, Mrs. George Boeckling and Mrs. Harry Loria.

Mrs. Robert Watterson was pianist for the program. Color leaders were Mrs. William Bennett and Mrs. Rudolph Bodendorfer. Mrs. D. W. Lewis served as song leader.

Publisher Denies Lorain Paper Became 'Drunk With Power'

CLEVELAND, March 14—(AP)—The publisher of The Lorain Ohio, Journal denies that a newspaper with a monopoly in its field becomes "drunk with power."

Samuel A. Horvitz appeared in federal court yesterday as The Journal's only defense witness to the anti-trust charge brought by the Justice Department.

Horvitz, chief policy maker of the steel city's only daily newspaper, was on the stand all day, rebutting the government's six-day testimony accusing the paper of restraint of trade.

Toying with his shell-rimmed glasses, he readily nodded agreement when Chief Government Counsel Victor H. Kramer confronted him with a 1930 statement he supposedly made, to show he had made the remark.

The statement expressed the view that two newspapers were essential in a community to prevent one from becoming sated with power.

He said he changed his mind not long after.

Without being asked why, he claimed, "it cost me lots of money to find out why."

The publisher, a thick-set, neatly groomed man, said he now was convinced that Lorain, a city of 50,000, wasn't big enough to support economically two newspapers in the same field, either morning or afternoon publications.

He denied whatever meaning Kramer had read into his (Horvitz's) 1930 statement by saying, "I know it (The Journal) has not been drunk with power and never will become so."

Horvitz also made these points for the defense:

1. Denied he or The Journal had a deal under which The Elyria Chronicle-Telegram was not circulated in Lorain, about nine miles away.

2. Insisted The Journal had the right, as a matter of policy, to reject or accept whatever advertising it pleased—and made no secret of the newspaper's ban on advertisers who also used Radio Station WEOL of Elyria and Lorain.

3. Denied The Journal wanted to buy out competition by acquiring either WEOL or The Lorain Sunday News, a weekly—claiming he had turned down offers to buy them.

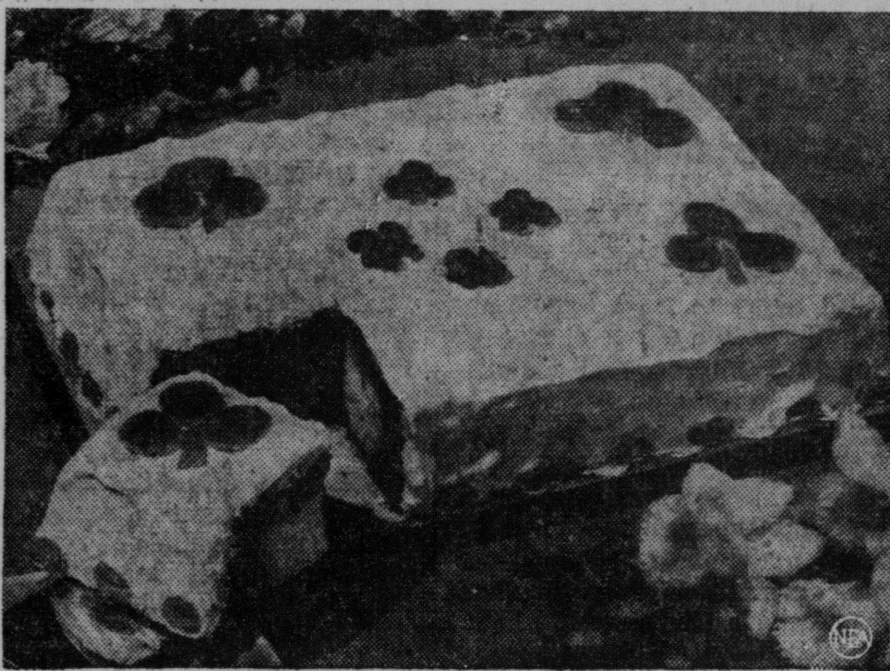

4. Denied The Journal refused space to advertisers who bought space in The News, offering names of 30 merchants who used both.

Horvitz insisted that the newspaper had the right to reject paid notices. The government's main point in the anti-trust case is that The Journal refused space to radio advertisers.

He first explained that The Journal, under prior ownership, consistently denied out-of-town merchants advertising space to protect local merchants from outside competitors. Horvitz said The Journal maintained the policy under his management to build up The Lorain shopping market.

Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed, who is presiding over the trial, has called for oral arguments by defense and prosecution today. Both sides then will be given a month to submit briefs.

GREEN GUMDROPS make the shamrocks on this dessert.

The Cookbook

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Light Cake Honors St. Patrick

SPRINGLIKE and appropriate for St. Patrick's Day, here's a downy light cake decorated with gummy drop shamrocks on white icing.

It's a green and white marble and is easy and quick to produce. It's made of white cake mix (two packages) baked in a 13x9x2-inch pan to give a party-sized cake. The mix can be ready for the oven within four minutes after the package is opened—just add milk, beat and bake.

The marbling is done with green vegetable coloring matter. Divide the batter in half, add green coloring to one half, and spoon the two batters, green and white, alternately into the pan.

Remember that the coloring matter is very strongly colored. A little goes a long way, so add it drop by drop until you get a springlike tint.

Frost with any white icing, and decorate with shamrocks made of sliced gummy drops. In planning green dishes for St. Patrick's Day, stick to naturally green dishes if possible. Here are a few: Avocado cup or salad, split pea soup, broccoli with parsley butter, spinach souffle, asparagus salad, molded cucumber salad, watercress, pistachio ice cream, green gage plums, lime ice and gelatin.

Spinach au Gratin

(4 servings)

One-half pound spinach, chopped fine, 2 oz. cheese, grated (about 1/2 cup), 3/4 cup hot medium white sauce, slices of crisp bacon, crumbs mixed with butter or fortified margarine.

Cook spinach a few minutes in a covered pan without any added water. Add cheese to the white sauce and stir until melted. Mix spinach and sauce and pour into a baking dish. Crumble the bacon over the top and sprinkle with crumbs.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until crumbs are brown about 20 minutes. (NEA Service, Inc.)

Concert Group Teams Lauded For Sellout

Appreciation was expressed today to campaign captains and team members of the Northern Columbiana County Community Concert Association for bringing last week's membership drive to a "complete sellout."

Walter Null, president, and Charles F. Fox, secretary, praised the campaign workers in Salem, Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana and Damascus in reaching the maximum membership goal.

Team captains include Mrs. J. Raymond Stiver, Miss Hilda Franke, Miss Martha Krauss, Miss Carmen McNicol, Mrs. Danfield Weber, Mrs. Preston Snyder, George Karlis, Miss Gertrude Butera, Miss Leona Ehrhart of Columbiana, Mrs. D. H. Hepburn of Lisbon, Mrs. Richard Roose of Leetonia and Miss Mary French of Damascus.

At the meeting of officers and directors of the association Saturday evening in the Presbyterian Church, negotiations got underway for the four concerts of the coming season. Harry Beall of New York, representative of Community Concert Service, assisted with the campaign and the planning program. The artists and dates of appearance will be announced later.

At 8:15 p. m. Wednesday, March 29, in the Alliance High School auditorium, concert ticket holders will hear the DePaul Infantry Chorus in the concluding Alliance concert in the present series. The last Salem concert, April 23, will present the Revelers Male Quartet.

Icy Pavement Causes Truck-Tractor Mishap

A truck driven by Eldis R. Zeller of R. D. 3, Alliance, was damaged in a collision on E. State st. at 8:09 p. m. Monday, caused by icy pavement, police reported.

Zeller was driving east when a tractor driven by William Schebesh of R. D. 2, Salem, spun around in front of him, hitting the front of his tractor. The front of the vehicle was damaged, but Schebesh's was not.

A Beery Cab Co. taxi operated by Olin Brown was damaged when hit by a truck being towed by a semi-trailer owned by Reber and Bichsel of Alliance on E. State st. at 11:45 p. m. Monday.

The cab was parked at the time.

Lustron Gets Court Reprieve

Judge To Allow Cheapened Operation

COLUMBUS, March 14—(AP)—Lustron Corp. will stay in business until April 3—but the prefabricated housing firm's overhead will be slashed again.

N. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood granted Lustron a "reprieve" last night, several hours after he had threatened to close the plant at once because it was losing money.

Lustron is being operated by Clyde M. Foraker, court-appointed receiver, for a 30-day trial period due to end April 3. Foraker was appointed after the Reconstruction Finance Corp. which bankrolled the Lustron operation, obtained a judgment for more than $36,000,000.

Earlier yesterday Judge Underwood said it would take about $500,000 to operate the plant during the 30-day period. He said the court would not take responsibility for such a loss unless the RFC asked the plant be kept running.

Last week Foraker, seeking to cut operating expenses, fired four of Lustron's top officials, including Carl G. Strandlund, its $50,000 a year president. About 200 office employees also got the ax.

Still further economies are promised under Judge Underwood's decision to let the plant stay in business.

Atty. James W. Schocknessy of Columbus represented the RFC in yesterday's conference. The judge's statement said:

"After extensive conferences held throughout the day by the court with the receiver, counsel for the receiver, counsel for the Reconstruction Finance Corp. and counsel for Lustron, it appears that the economies already affected by the receiver can be intensified to the point where losses will not be as great as originally anticipated."

"Accordingly Mr. Schocknessy advised the court on behalf of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. that it is the desire of the corporation that the Lustron plant be continued in operation for the remainder of the 30-day period. Mr. Schocknessy further advised Judge Underwood that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. would be requested to make such a recommendation direct to the court."

"Judge Underwood indicated that since the Reconstruction Finance Corp. is the principal creditor, that if they wanted it continued in operation after being fully advised, it was his intention to follow their recommendation."

About 800 workers remain at Lustron. Judge Underwood also allowed Strandlund until April 15 to answer RFC allegations involving his personal default on about $15,000,000 of the $37,500,000 loaned Lustron.

Railroads Oppose Aid To Lakers

WASHINGTON, March 14—(AP)—Opposition to a plan to revive package freight and passenger services on the Great Lakes with help from the government developed among American railroads today.

Legislation has been introduced in Congress to let the Maritime Commission cut the price of 10 war surplus vessels for use on the lakes. Gregory S. Prince, assistant general solicitor of the Association of American Railroads, called the bill "a direct, outright subsidy to an agency of transportation that is highly competitive with the railroads in the field of domestic commerce."

A vessel that cost the government $4,400,000 would net the government only $155,000, he asserted.

He spoke before a Senate commerce subcommittee. The measure would allow the commission to make allowances up to 90 per cent on the floor price of the 10 vessels.

Sponsors of the bill argue that the government requisitioned all the package freighters from the lakes during World War II and passage of the legislation would "right a great wrong."

Vessels built during the war have been sold for ocean service at a fraction of their cost, says Sen. Thye (R-Minn), co-sponsor of the bill.

Civilians In Spot Next War

New Weapons Aim At Home Front

LONDON, March 14—(AP)—If there is another war, you might be safer at the fighting front than at home.

A United Press survey of secret and semi-secret weapons ready for use in the laboratory stage shows that the art of killing civilians is far outpacing that of killing soldiers.

Soldiers would have plenty of trouble in a new holocaust. They always do, and more or less expect it. But next time, if any, civilians are expected to take the heaviest beating and the heaviest casualties.

The hydrogen bomb would be a terror weapon far too vast to use on the fighting front. If it is ever dropped, it almost certainly will be aimed against a great metropolis or possibly behind the lines of an advancing army to devastate their communications lines over huge areas.

Actually there is only a handful of targets large enough to warrant its use. Places like New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Philadelphia or Boston.

A British scientist told the United Press that, barring the hydrogen bomb, he rated the terror weapons of any new war in this order:

Germ bombs—To spread plague and panic in big cities.

Atomic bombs—For use against cities or large concentration of troops.

Radioactive clouds—to lay waste agricultural areas and cities.

"Sound bombs"—To break civilian morale. "Sound bomb" is a term used for the employment of prolonged high-pitched noises, the full effects of which are not known.

Poison gas—For use against either armies or civilians. There are new "heavy" types which are not dissipated by light winds as in World War I and for which there are no known antidotes. Some of them dissolve the materials usually used in gas masks. And any or all of these could be carried to the target by guided missiles as well as by conventional planes.

A Date With Adolf

A MISSOURI judge has advised the 102-year-old man in that state who wanted a declaratory judgment that he was Jesse Woodson James, the famous bandit of the 19th century, that he should repent if he is telling the truth. This is a legal precedent worth filing for reference.

Eventually, someone is going to claim that he is really Adolf Hitler and is thereby entitled to the rich prerogatives which forgetfulness will bestow on that legendary bad man. This will happen about 1965, and if the claim can be established it will be worth a sizeable sum of cash to the claimant.

He would be automatically eligible to write his memoirs. Television would find a sponsor for him. Any old admirers would shower favors on him, and among the thoughtless he would be the object of morbid curiosity. But the trick would have to be turned not much later than 1965. By that time the Austrian renegade would be 76 years old, had he lived. Anyone who waits too long to claim to be the notorious Schicklgruber can expect nothing better than a cell alongside one of the thousands of late comers who have claimed to be Napoleon Bonaparte.

Philadelphia Tag

ANOTHER basketball season is all over but the grinding of teeth as coaches, players and spectators review the circumstances of some of their heart-breaking defeats.

Many of the heart-breakers—too many—were the result of hair-splitting applications of split-hair rules. The fact is that basketball, the greatest of all sports both in spectator interest and player participation, has drifted into a state of double jeopardy. Each team must try to beat not only the opposition but the happenstances of rules and their interpretation.

Not only are its rules difficult of application, but they are applied under the difficult circumstances of widespread misunderstanding. The same rules may be applied differently in different sections of the country. Different rules may be applied differently. All this is adding up to a kind of tag-game for Philadelphia lawyers, instead of the kind of straight-out contest which harmonizes with American love for fair play and honest competition.

It is possible for the outcome of a basketball game to be determined by too many technicalities for the good of the game, especially in view of the fact that many games are decided by one or two points of difference. Baseball and football, with fourth strikes added for technical lapses, or extra tries for field goals awarded to either team at the discretion of referees, would be absurd. Basketball, with free throws allowed for everything from intentional fouls to jeering by home-team spectators, is in danger of becoming absurd.

At Least The Russians Vote

JUST BEFORE Russia's latest election the Voice of America beamed a sarcastic broadcast to Russian voters. The purpose was to kick them about last Sunday's mockery of "democratic" practices.

But some comparisons between the way elections are managed in Russia and in the United States had better be accompanied by a shrug, to indicate irony. To be sure, there's only one slate of candidates in a Russian election. But in the one-party states of the Solid South there's only one slate of candidates to all intents and purposes.

In Russia, the candidates are hand-picked. There is no popular basis for their selection. But in the United States, the single greatest problem of popular government is how to find candidates with enough popular appeal to keep elections from being a hopeless choice between incompetents.

This is one of the causes of election apathy in the United States, a condition which has been growing in seriousness for a number of years. It may be funny that as many as 99 percent of Russia's eligible voters go to the polls to vote yes, but there's nothing funny about the fact that in the United States it has become quite a trick to persuade 50 percent of the voters to go to the polls at all. Neglect of the franchise in this country provides more chuckles for the inmates of the Kremlin than their rigged elections provide for the American people. At least in Russia, where there's no choice, voters aren't getting into the bad habit of being so preoccupied they can't go through the motions of furnishing a popular basis for government.

Saucer Men

ALL FURTHER guesswork about flying saucers will be drab as government statistics until something has been done about the report that the wreckage of one of the things on a Mexican hillside yielded up the body of a deceased pilot 23 inches tall. That would be about knee-high to an Earthite.

In proportion, that would make his flying machine a fairly respectable gadget in Earthite measurements. Estimates of the diameter of the saucers run in the neighborhood of 50 feet. If saucer men evidently are further, advanced in aeronautical science than the inhabitants of this planet, who so far have been unable to get beyond its stratosphere.

When they do get beyond it and crack up their space ships on the unyielding surface of a hillside on somebody else's planet, perhaps the natives will understand at the outset that no harm was intended. Meanwhile, it might be well to acknowledge the possibility that the saucer men are harmless too.

That seems to be as good a place as any to leave guesswork about flying saucers. They may be something cooked up by the dwellers on some other planet who wish to explore stellar space. Little do they know what hubbub they're causing among Earthites conditioned by their own sad experiences to fear the worst, even when it presents itself in the form of knee-high strangers in flying machines that look like saucers.

Love, King-Sized

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK. COME, fellow peasants, let us sit upon the ground and tell sad tales of the plight of kings.

The common man used to believe he bore most of the world's woes, but it turns out kings have their troubles, too.

In the last century people worried because there were too many kings on thrones—and not enough in pocket.

Today unemployment is the plague of monarchs. In olden times kings were bounced off their thrones because (1) they were mad, (2) they cut too many heads, (3) a stronger relative wanted the job, (4) they lost a war, or (5) folks just got tired of paying them too much in taxes.

Now, however, kings seem to lose their ermine and scepter over love—love, that wonderful four-letter word.

THEY GAVE UP their power, their prestige, their dominions—but, by cracky, the kings have showed a stubborn streak when it came to love. They have insisted on exercising the right that princes have always had in fairy tales, and commoners have had in real life: The right to go with the gal they like.

King Carol, for instance, said, "to heck with Romania—I'll take Madame Lupescu." Before he had even sat on the throne of England long enough to get it warm, Edward VIII gave it up for Mrs. Simpson, "the woman I love." And Widower King Leopold felt he couldn't help it if Belgium was overrun by invaders, and went right ahead and married a commoner.

Now Leopold has won a referendum showing a majority of Belgium's voters want him returned to his home country and throne.

One thing you have to say about these monarchs: They have all stuck by the girl of their choice. And all the world loves a steadfast lover, crowned or crownless. Certainly all wives do.

That is why the latest jobless monarch, young Chief Seretse Khama of Bechuanaland, has much public sympathy.

The Oxford-educated chief, an involuntary exile in London, is pining for his absent bride, pretty Ruth Williams, a former typist, who is holding the fort for him back home in darkest Africa. Seretse rules 100,000 Bamangwato, the largest tribe in Bechuanaland, a 175,000-square-mile chunk of "the unknown continent."

WITH A GALLANTRY rare

even in civilized lands, his tribal council has forgiven the young chief for marrying a white foreigner with no blue blood in her veins. They want him back.

But Britain's Labor government, which relinquished India, the brightest jewel in the imperial crown, says, "No, Seretse, you stay in England and be a nice ex-chief." There are dark whispers as to why. There are hints that South Africa wants to take over Bechuanaland, and that a chief with an Oxford accent might stand in the way.

So far the best offer the Labor government has made to Seretse is a guarantee of about $3,750 a year if he will play ball.

Offhand, it looks like Seretse could do better on Broadway and Hollywood. I'll bet Rodgers and Hammerstein could assure him of at least $100,000 for a comic opera based on his life story—Young Love vs The Empire. And there are also television and radio rights, a lecture tour, and the Book-of-the-Month Club to consider.

Tote 'em all up and Seretse would be sure to be solvent before the British government is. He could then probably even buy back Bechuanaland—his own country—with a down payment in dollars, and the rest contingent on how well the London foreign office behaved itself.

Speaking Of Spring Cleaning

Russians Misinterpret Our News

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON. WHAT the Russians permit to come into the United States from behind their censorship of news dispatches is examined minutely here nowadays to determine just what the Kremlin is thinking about.

Observation of the Russian technique in handling press relations has developed the almost unanimous conclusion here that the lag in comments on world news in the Soviet press is due to bureaucracy's red tape. The official propagandists in Moscow must wait for weeks at a time while their requests for guidance are discussed at the top level in the government and they must wait still further for the directives—telling them what to write—to percolate downward to all concerned.

Thus, for example, it is more than five weeks now since Senator McMahon, of Connecticut, made his speech in the senate advocating that as much as 50 billions of dollars be spent to develop a plan for world peace which would include economic aid to Russia.

THE TASK of denouncing the plan evidently has just been given to Ilya Ehrenburg, the Soviet press hatchet man who is supposed to be a master of invective and satirical criticism.

The Ehrenburg comment in "Pravda" is, of course, significant not because of what that particular writer thinks but because it reveals what his superiors are thinking. The comment says: "Our people will never live according to other people's orders. In vain Mr. Truman contemplates frightening us, in vain Mr. McMahon thinks of buying us out. 'We don't need the advice of ignorant South Carolina slave owners and we don't fear haberdashery salesmen from across the ocean, even if they advertise bombs instead of suspenders.'"

The reference to South Carolina may have been intended as a crack at the author of the Baruch plan for atomic control, a cold morning and the exhaust pipe of a gasoline engine, unless we are wearing gloves. And as the result of the latest project we have learned not to get in the way of a saw, a wrench that might slip and a hammer that might miss its target.

A lot of amiable guff has been written about the serenity that comes to the minds of overwrought human beings by doing constructive work with their hands. It's supposed to rate high in value for curing the twitters and the glooms. But nothing is said about the probability that the duffer who tries to do something constructive with his mitts will beat and tear them into a pulp.

The cultivator rig was composed of numerous parts. It is, in fact, a giant-size Erector set, with infinite possibilities of assembly, none of which could have been in the mind of its original designer.

The first cart was a failure on its trial run. Half a dozen defects showed up; the sum of them was complete collapse. But the second one is a minor triumph of rigidity. In due time, the original manufacturer will receive a sketch of it to show what can be done with a little blood, toil, tears and profanity.

But to get back to the beat-up hands: They bear some 15-odd abrasions, bruises and gashes, each representing a mishap that could have been avoided by foresight. The approximation of the total represents uncertainty about several of the scars of inexperience—whether they should be charged to the cart-making or to other mishaps.

For example, several of them had their origins in the folly of picking up odds and ends of wood from a brush fire which turned out to be sizzling hot, though they apparently hadn't caught fire. And at least one tender place represents an ungloved encounter with a stalk of cockle burrs.

All this comes under the heading of experience—learning not to touch the stove by touching it. People who work with their hands day in and day out find out the hard way what is to be avoided. In eight months we have learned not to grab nettles, poison ivy, the handle of a pail on whose ancestors lived in South Carolina, and the gibe at the "haberdashery salesman" is the way some Soviet commentators occasionally refer to Mr. Truman's early career in business.

WHAT THE SOVIET propaganda chiefs forget is that writing of that kind may amuse some readers on this side of the ocean and antagonize others, but it doesn't convince Americans that the Russians have really learned anything about how to conduct effective propaganda—how "to win friends and influence people."

Actually, three pieces of important information may be derived from the inspired Ehrenburg comment:

First, it reveals that the Russians construed the President's announcement of our intention to manufacture the H-bomb as a move to frighten Russia into submission. It shows the U. S. should have issued its statement with a different psychological approach.

Second, it reveals that the Russians purposely misunderstood the McMahon speech, or else the Connecticut senator really didn't make his point clear—that the setting up of a huge international fund to assure peace was primarily to promote economic well-being as a basis for friendship among all nations, including Russia, and was not by an stretch of the imagination intended as a means of "buying" peace or of offering money as an inducement to negotiation.

Third, despite all the talk that American news does not get into Russia, it is evident that speeches such as those made by Senators McMahon and Tydings are thoroughly read in an effort to appraise the mood of the American people. It all shows how relatively untried are the constructive ways of removing distrust between the two peoples and how psychologically important are exchanges of view that can help build mutual trust.

U. N. Peace Commission Standing Guard

LAKE SUCCESS. IF TROUBLE comes, a United Nations peace commission may not be far behind. That's not an infallible rule but it has generally turned out that way during the past four years.

The U. N. now has these missions in half a dozen spots around the world. It happened first in Greece; then in Palestine, Indonesia, Korea, the Kashmir. New U. N. missions have just been sent to Africa to work out the future of Italy's prewar colonies.

Where the next one will go nobody knows. Maybe Formosa. Nationalist China's chief delegate T. F. Tsiang says he might ask for such a commission as a deterrent to open Russian aid to the Chinese Reds.

U. N. secretary-general Trygve Lie is firmly convinced that these peace missions now consisting of nearly 500 conciliators, observers and staff members—have demonstrated the worth of the U. N.

Lie gives the missions credit for stopping wars in at least three places: Palestine, Indonesia and Kashmir. In Greece and Korea, the U. N. commissions have kept a close watch on explosive border situations and possibly averted serious clashes.

While all of the U. N. peace missions have differed in many ways, they usually were created to do one or more of the following jobs:

1. Conciliate or mediate the differences between the quarreling parties.
2. Act as a watchdog to discourage aggressive action.
3. Investigate a problem on the scene to find out who was to blame and to make recommendations as to how the problem can be solved.
4. Carry out a U. N. program for the territory in question.

On some major problems the U. N. has set up several missions, one after the other, to do specific jobs.

On Palestine, for instance, the General Assembly created a special committee (UNSCOP) to study the problem and recommend a solution. This committee came back with the Palestine partition plan the assembly adopted Nov. 29, 1947. The assembly then set up the Palestine Partition Commission to put the partition plan into effect. When fighting broke out, the Security Council created a mediation mission headed by Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte. Bernadotte was assassinated and Ralph J. Bunche, his chief aide took over. Bunche brought an end to the fighting through a series of armisties. Then the Palestine problem was turned over to a new conciliation commission which now is trying to work out a permanent peace.

Not all the problems were so complicated. The Korean commission, for example, originally was given the task of supervising elections and aiding in the establishment of a national government. Another job was to try to unify southern Korea, occupied by the United States, and northern Korea. The commission still has made no progress toward unification of the two sectors and it now is primarily concerned with watching the delicate frontier situation.

One of the biggest U. N. successes was scored in Indonesia, where the fighting was stopped and an agreement negotiated which led to the independence of Indonesia last Dec. 27. In Kashmir, the U. N. commission succeeded in ending the fighting, but has been unable to bring India and Pakistan to agreement on a proposed plebiscite.

The Balkan committee has made no progress in ending the differences between Greece and her Communist neighbors to the north. It keeps a close watch on the border, however, and reports any evidence of outside aid to Greece's guerilla forces.

The new missions to Africa are examples of still another type. The mission to Libya, headed by Adrian Pelt, has the task of setting up an independent government in the former Italian colony by Jan. 1, 1952. Another commission has gone to Eritrea to study the situation and recommend what disposition the U. N. should make of that colony. A third mission, still to go, will act as an advisory council to Italy, which will administer Somalia for the next ten years under the U. N. trusteeship system.

The U. N. has now progressed to the point that it is trying to work out a standard pattern for the organization and procedure of commissions. The first steps along this line were taken last year when the year-around Little Assembly directed the secretariat to assemble information on each of the commissions created so far and make a comparative tabulation of their rules.

The 1949 Assembly took two other steps in preparation for expanded peace work in the field. It authorized Lie to establish a special field service of 300 guards, chauffeurs and communications experts to aid its commissions abroad. It also approved plans for the establishment of a special panel of conciliators who would be available to tackle U. N. assignments.

Adhesions Get Blame For Symptoms

"ADHESIONS" are often blamed for all kinds of pains and other symptoms for which no other cause can be found. In doing this people often have a very vague idea of what adhesions are and what they can do.

Adhesions are made up of tissue just like that of an ordinary scar on the skin.

This consists of tiny, slightly elastic fibers called fibrous tissue. The body tends to respond to any infection or injury by forming fibrous tissue. This response is not related to the particular nature of the damage but is merely one of nature's attempts to heal. A scar on the skin is not called an adhesion, but on the inside portions of the body similar "scar" tissue may form and produce adhesions.

If a patient has acute appendicitis and the appendix has ruptured, spilling the infection into the surrounding tissue, adhesions will often form. The same is true of many other internal infections.

The adhesions thus formed may or may not produce complications later on. Adhesions have a tendency to contract; if they have formed around a loop of the intestines, therefore, they may draw tighter and tighter, thus preventing the free flow of intestinal contents. This, in turn, can produce symptoms and may require an operation to cut these bands of fibrous tissue and free the partly strangled gut.

What to do for adhesions depends on where the adhesions are located, what normal structures of the body they surround, and what this contraction is doing to the organs involved. For all these reasons adhesions frequently are blamed for vague symptoms which cannot be blamed on anything else.

Anyone can see that pinning the blame on adhesions is likely to be difficult. Sometimes it can be done only by operation when the region under suspicion comes under the eyes of the surgeon.

Some people tend to develop adhesions much more easily than others. This raises a difficult problem because in such people new adhesions are likely to form even after old ones have been cut or removed. However, surgical methods are so good now that the number of recurrences of adhesions is greatly decreased. They can occur, however, even after the most meticulous surgery.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THE SAD CASE of a two-year-old movie actress who have been unemployed for 26 weeks points up the failure of the capitalist state to guarantee security to its wage-earners.

Here is a taxpayer willing and able to work for her daily lollypop and now dependent on the $25 a week California provides to ease the strain of unemployment.

So many things could be done for her. John Lewis could organize her. Jimmie Roosevelt could make her a campaign issue, or, if she cared to move abroad she could be rehabilitated.

Certainly a condition cannot be permitted to continue under which a two-year-old has nothing to look forward to but kindergarten.

This poor child took in $1340 for three months' work last year, then idleness. Is this the best industry can do for its midget minions?

No wonder thousands of Americans are turning to the left headed for the welfare state in their baby buggies.

BIBLE QUOTATION

And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, to be difficult. Sometimes it can be done only by operation when the region under suspicion comes under the eyes of the surgeon.

Communism's Threat Cited By Ex-Red

COLUMBUS, March 14—(AP)—The world will be plunged into slavery unless the Communist menace to the world is defeated, a former national secretary of the Communist party said here yesterday.

Benjamin Gitlow, who also twice ran for the U. S. vice presidency on the Communist ticket, declared:

"Communism must be driven from this country, and America must rekindle the spirit of patriotism that made our country strong.

"We must meet and defeat the Communist menace or the world will be plunged into slavery."

He addressed a Columbus Rotary Club meeting, asserting Communists now control China because of Communist infiltration in our State Department.

"Lenin and Stalin both have said that once Russia gets China, it can challenge the Western world for domination of the globe," he said.

CANTON, March 14—(AP)—Little Vivian Sue O'Brien could proudly flash a silver life-saving medal today for her heroic rescue of a playmate last January.

Vivian, who just turned six Friday, was presented the award at the O'Brien home last night by the Stark County Firemen's Association. Karl Lehr, Association president, said the organization would recommend the girl for the national Carnegie Life-Saving Medal.

The little girl rescued Johnny Christman, six, also of nearby Bolivar, from a water-filled mine shaft there after he plunged through a thin layer of ice. She threw him a cable and held on while he pulled himself to safety.

Three Taxi Drivers Face Robbery Count

CLEVELAND, March 14—(AP)—Three former cab drivers go on trial next Monday on charges of robbing the Superior Savings and Loan Association of $34,000 here Jan. 11.

John W. Hux, 27, alleged leader of the trio, will be arraigned today before Common Pleas Judge Arthur H. Day. Hux was captured in Miami last week. He told detectives he spent nearly $22,000 of the loot in the two months police were hunting him.

Robert C. Andross, 24, and Richard S. Chamberlain, 22, who were captured at the taxicab company garage a few hours after the holdup, already have pleaded innocent. The indictment against Hux was returned yesterday.

All three are charged with entering a savings institution to commit a felony. This little-used charge carries a stiffer penalty than the usual armed robbery conviction which provides for 10 to 25 years in jail.

A guilty verdict on the malicious entry charge would mean life—or, with a recommendation of mercy, a minimum of 20 years. Eligibility for parole would, in either case, require 10 years.

At The Theaters

"WHIRLPOOL" at the State Theater Wednesday and Thursday features Richard Conte and Gene Tierney in a tale involving hypnotism and murder.

Dan Dailey plays a home town boy who is the first to enlist in the Army but just can't get sent overseas in the comedy, "When Willie Comes Marching Home," at the State Theater tonight. Corinne Calvert and Colleen Townsend are the feminine interests.

"Whirlpool" at the State Wednesday and Thursday features Gene Tierney, Richard Conte and Jose Ferrer in a tale of an innocent victim of a hypnotist's sinister plot of blackmail and murder.

When an Arab princess (Maurice O'Hara) returns to the desert from an English school, she seeks vengeance against her father's murderers. The colorful film, "Bagdad," at the State Friday and Saturday, also stars Paul Christian and Vincent Price.

An up-to-the-minute western, "Bells of Coronado," at the Grand Friday and Saturday stars Roy Rogers as an insurance investigator seeking the head of a murderous gang trying to steal uranium ore. Chapter 11 of the serial, "The Adventures of Sir Galahad," is also on the screen.

Nash sales growth since the war has been more than 4 times as great as that of the Automotive Industry as a whole*...

WHY NASH?

*In the four post-war years just ended, Nash sales have increased 93.7% over the same period pre-war, while the industry registered only a 21.3% gain, post-war over pre-war.

Why Nash? Because Nash has consistently led in the power parade—builder of valve-in-head engines for a third of a century—a leader in high compression.

Because today Nash alone builds a valve-in-head engine of 7.3 to 1 compression ratio that utilizes regular gasoline.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first with automatically-controlled, pressurized heating and ventilation, probably the greatest single health, comfort and safety feature of the modern automobile.

Because today's Nash Weather Eye Conditioned Air System is still first in efficiency and in safety—with fresh, untainted air drawn from outside, above the engine compartment.

Why Nash? Because Nash has been first and foremost in advocating—and delivering—greater gasoline mileage.

Because Nash today builds a big full-size car that delivers more than 25 miles to the gallon at average highway speed.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first to mass-produce the Unitized, welded body-and-frame car that is more rigid, durable, safer and free of squeaks and rattles.

Because today, 12 billion owner miles have proved that Unitized Nash Airflyte Construction has set a new standard for long life and economical operation.

Why Nash? Because today's Nash Airflyte cars by scientific wind-tunnel test have been proved to have 20.7% less air drag than the average of 10 other cars tested—with noticeably less wind-noise, less fuel consumption, and noticeably greater stability.

Why Nash? Because Nash was first to attack the problem of rust by Bonderizing and by more durable baked enamels.

Because today all sheet metal parts of a Nash Airflyte are many times more resistant to wear and fading.

Why Nash? Because today's Nash Airflytes offer more combined passenger and luggage space, dollar for dollar, than any other car.

Why Nash? Because Nash has been years ahead in the development of the car interior. First to have the curved, one-piece windshield on all models, and Uniscopes—and today is the only car offering an Airliner Reclining Seat and Twin Beds.

Toy Fair Enthusiasm Is Shown Over Salem Firm's 'Ponycycle'

Children all over America soon will be enjoying a new toy if the enthusiasm shown for the recently developed Gonda Engineering Co.'s "Ponycycle," now being displayed at the New York Toy Fair, continues to grow.

Models of the three wheel toy are being shown at the fair this week for its first public showing. Already orders are starting to come into the Salem plant. Stephen Gonda is attending the fair and he has informed other company officials that buyers response is extremely good.

It is basically a pressed steel metal "Pinto pony" which has been mounted on wheels. Feature of the toy are handlebars which can be rotated by the pivot in the pony's mouth and with the bridle swung over the pony's head. The front half of the pony, including the head, shoulders and legs, rotate with the large front wheel. The joint between the front and rear half of the pony is sealed with a special rubber grommet which keeps the joint closed, thus avoiding any possible pinching.

The shape of the saddle carries out the cowboy idea with the usual saddle horn, flaps and blanket. The saddle straps around the pony "just like real." The pony's ears and the saddle horn are rubber. John Gonda, who directed the engineering on the ponycycle, says the toy can support a 200-pound man. It is intended for children from 3½ to 7½ years of age.

He said the company will go into production of the ponycycle in May and it will soon be available in department and hardware stores and other companies which handle children's toys. Everything will be made at the Salem plant except the rubber parts. "This will mean a substantial increase in company employes after the ponycycle goes into production," Mr. Gonda added.

Walter Bok had the original idea for the ponycycle. He made and submitted a sample to the Gonda company. The engineering firm spent five months in developing and refining the toy. Company men consulted local merchants, but the final approval for the toy came when a few Salem children mounted the ponycycle and . . . "Wheel!"

Warren Police Chief Charges Weighed

WARREN, March 14—(AP)—A three-man Civil Service Commission may give its decision tonight on misfeasance and malfeasance charges filed against William E. Johnson who has been suspended as police chief.

Johnson, who became police chief in 1946, denied each of 20 charges against him when he made a brief appearance on the stand before the commission yesterday. The charges were filed by Safety-Service Director Walter Pestrak.

Former Police Chief Barney J. Gillen, Johnson's predecessor in the post, testified for Johnson that the department was handled in an efficient manner. Gillen said that in his 27 years as chief, Johnson was one of his best men.

Pestrak and 10 other witnesses testified for the prosecution. The safety-service director said the DESPISE majority vote to resume the throne accorded Leopold III by the Belgian people, observers believe the Liberals, headed by Defense Minister Albert Deveze (above), may be unwilling to accept the poll results since they are only two points above minimum of 55 per cent the exiled king stipulated.

Johnson also ordered that three-day notices should not be sent to holders of delinquent parking tickets, Pestrak added, and that cost the city "enough to purchase a police cruiser."

Mrs. Roosevelt Visits Protege In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, March 14—(AP)

—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will meet again today with her protegee, Mrs. Mayris Chaney Martin, who gave birth to a second daughter here Friday.

The former first lady, who surprised unsuspecting visitors at the hospital here yesterday, stopped on a speaking trip to Louisville, Ky., to see Mrs. Martin. She is godmother to the Martin's first daughter, Anne Eleanor. Mrs. Martin, former dancer and family friend of the Roosevelt's, came here from Los Angeles to give birth to the second daughter, who will be named Mayris Michele.

The widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt will visit other wards today and will leave Cleveland tomorrow.

Mrs. Martin came here to be attended by Dr. Anne Master, her former doctor on the West coast.

Maybe This is the Year!

Many people have been saying that—if their luck keeps pace with their dreams—they're going to own a Cadillac one of these years.

If you are among them—and we hope you are—this may be the year. Listen . . .

. . . Cadillac has built a great new car, for 1950, that is just as practical to own as almost any car you would consider buying.

It is the new "Sixty-One"—and it is priced lower than the highest-priced models of a number of other cars you would never think of as in the same class with Cadillac.

Furthermore, this new Cadillac will give gasoline mileage which actually approaches that of the lowest-priced popular cars. And when it comes to long life and upkeep—well, a Cadillac has such endurance that its full lifespan has never been accurately measured.

Yes—from the standpoint of practicality—you've lost about your last logical reason for waiting any longer to buy a Cadillac.

And, oh, the things that say you ought to buy one—right here and now!

Take beauty, for instance. America's streets and highways have never carried a more handsome car than the 1950 Cadillac. Wherever it goes, it is an irresistible magnet for admiring eyes.

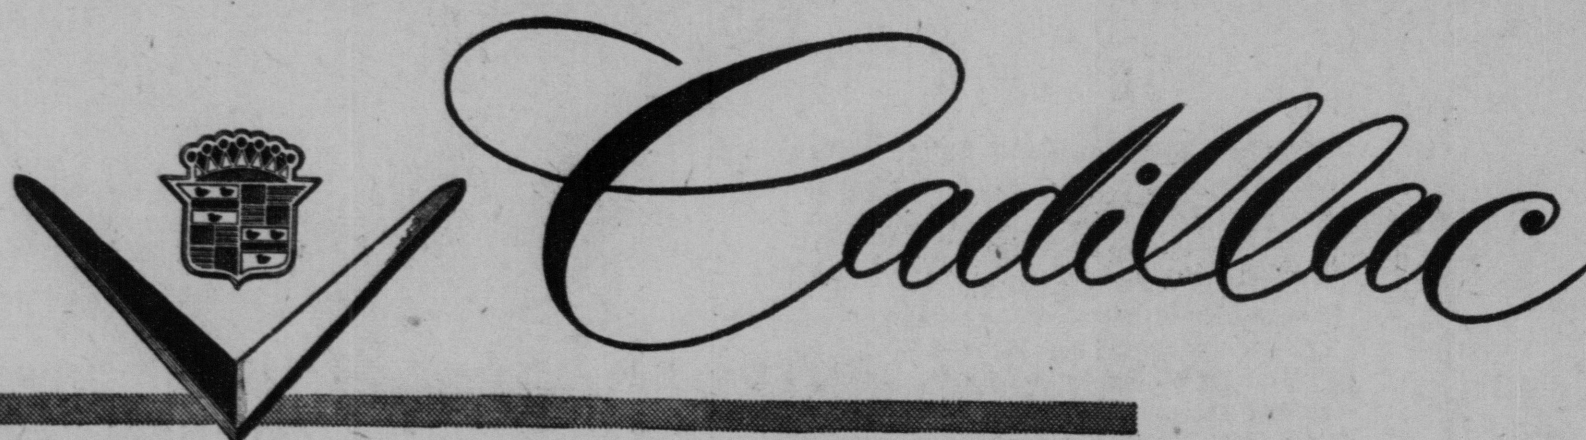

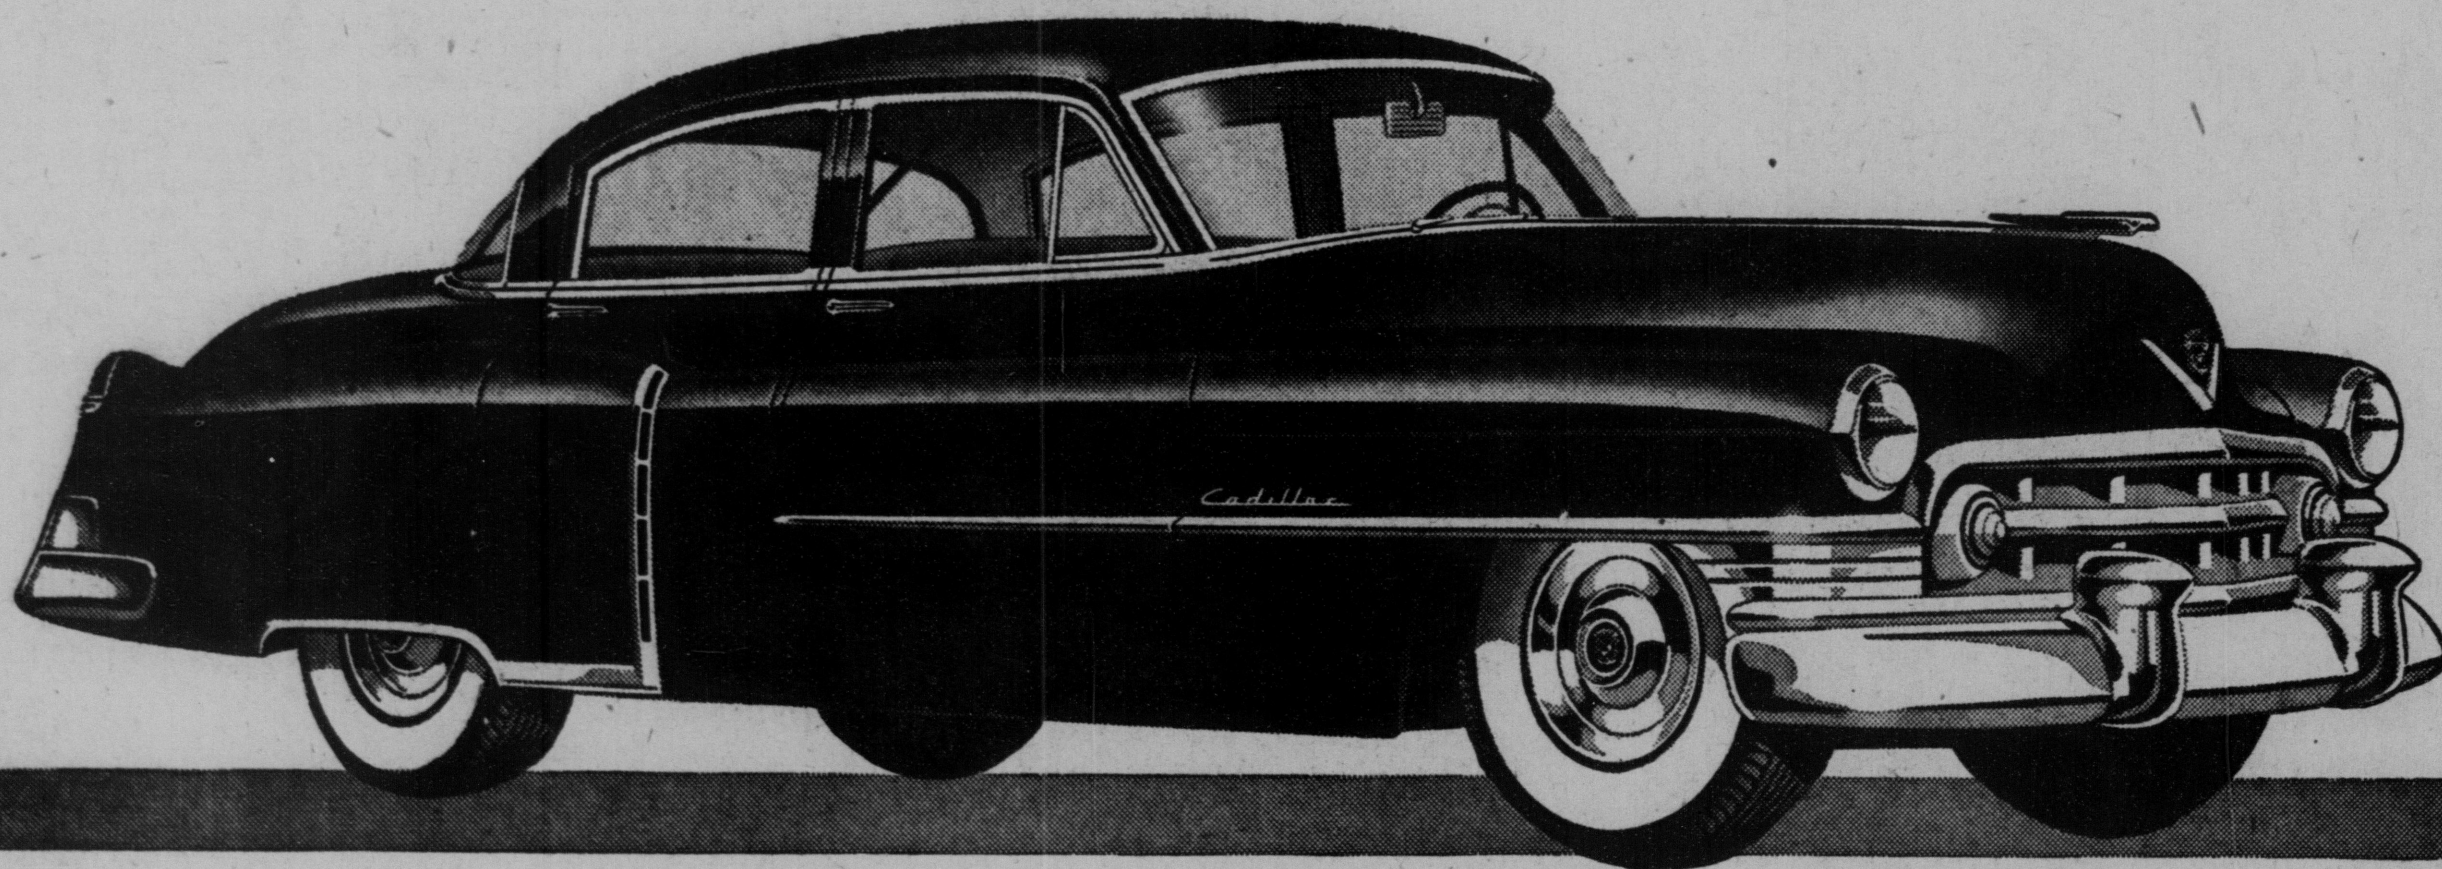

And then there's performance. Cadillac's miraculous new engine takes you through space almost as if the car had automatic propulsion. You ride as if every road were a boulevard. Steering and braking are amazingly easy—so easy they seem but response to your thought.

To sum it all up—the farther you can see down the highway, the happier you are—for distance is positively enchanting when you sit at the wheel of a 1950 Cadillac.

And how proud you'd be, sitting there with your hand on the slender, obedient steering wheel . . . sitting there as companion to the world's most distinguished people—in unrivalled safety and comfort.

Yes—maybe this is the year. Better come in and find out! We'd be delighted to see you.

Mullins, Fisher News Win First Class A Playoff Games

Millville Cops Fourth B Spot

Win Sudden Death
Overtime Tilt 42-40

The undefeated Mullins team continued to display its domination over Class A rivals by decisively stomping Town Talk 56-30 in the first round of the annual Shaughnessy playoffs at the Memorial building.

Fisher News moved out in front of their rivals, Amvets 1, by taking the first of a possible three games, 48-44.

Millville, deadlocked with Owens Service for fourth place in the Class B loop, took the playoff game, 42-40, and became eligible for the B Shaughnessy, which begins tonight.

Mullins was paced by Lowell Myers, with 13 points, and Frank

Salem Cage Tourney Set For April 5-8

The 18th annual Salem Independent Basketball Tournament (formerly "Little City" tourney) will be held at the Salem Memorial building from April 5 through April 8, it was announced today by Manager Joe Kelly.

The deadline for entries will be March 31. Fifty gold and silver trophies and medals will be awarded. Professional teams are not permitted to enter.

The tournament was won in 1949 by the Vienna Scott Service team of Youngstown. The Scotts are expected to enter again this year to defend their title.

Ransom Out In Front Of Pro-Amateur Tilt

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14 (AP)—Touring golf professionals team up with amateurs today for the second round of the 54-hole $10,000 Seminole golf club's amateur-pro tournament.

Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., led the 42 pros in opening rounds yesterday with a 33-36-69, three under par, for a one-stroke lead at the end of 18 holes.

Four other pros were one stroke off the pace. They are E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill.; Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa.; Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif.; and Roberto Di Vicenzo, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., winner of the Miami Beach open Sunday, turned in a 77 while Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., had a fat 79.

"Best Hitter In League" Is Stan (The Man) Musial

By HARRY GRAYSON

VERO BEACH, Fla.—(NEA)—The Dodgers didn't win the National League pennant last fall. The Cardinals collapsed completely only a few jumps from the wire.

And the Brooks already are worrying about the Red Bird who gives them the most trouble, Stanley Musial. Stan the Man continually is guilty of felonious assault at Ebbets Field, where it hurts most.

How would you like to be a pitcher faced with the task of stopping Musial with the bags jammed?

What bit of sorcery would you use on the Donora Dandy, whose individualistic left-hand batting stance has his eyes cocked over his right shoulder like a thief taking a quick look while running from a cop?

"I just try to blow the ball past him," says Don Newcombe, the Brooklyn club's big right-hander. "That is all any pitcher can do. Try to apply science, and he makes you look like a gopher-ball pitcher."

"I've actually laid awake nights trying to figure out ways of putting the brakes on Musial," intones Roy Campanella, the hydrant-shaped other half of Branch Rickey's remarkable Negro battery. "Nothing works. There's simply no way to pitch to him."

"He is the most unpredictable hitter in the National League, far and away the best."

Newcombe, who bagged 17 games after reporting in mid-May to be the N. L.'s most valuable rookie, offers this advice to this year's crop of pitching peacocks:

"Don't try to be smart and use fancy stuff against Musial. You may get him out one way one time, but use the same strategy the next, and he'll pin your ears back.

"I've learned one thing about him. It's absolutely necessary to keep your pitches mixed up."

"Your only chance is to throw his extraordinary timing off."

"Above all, don't make the mistake of trying to fool him twice with the same pitch. You're a sucker if you do, for he'll invariably hit the ball for distance, frequently out of sight, or so savagely on a line that no one can get his hands on it."

Showing just a little more early foot, Musial easily would be the National League's first 400 hitter since Bill Terry popped down in front in 1930. Certainly the St. Louis restaurateur would enjoy a tremendous year.

Despite the fact that Musial broke slowly, he showed the way with 357 in 1943, 365 in '46 and 376 in '48.

From the All-Star Game on, the records show him to be a sizzling hitter.

He gets hottest with the weather in August. In '47, when he suffered from tonsillitis and appendicitis, to the extent that operations were necessary at the season's end, he was batting a sickly .188 on June 1, yet finished with .312. At mid-season last year, he was batting .298, but wound up with .338, losing the championship to Jackie Robinson by only four points.

It is difficult to imagine just what kind of a season Stan Musial would have if he got off to a flying start.

And with him would go the Cardinals.

MERCHANTS TO MEET
All members of the Salem Merchants baseball team are asked to attend a meeting at 7 p. m. Wednesday at the Memorial building. At that time the club's fund-raising campaign will be concluded.

Indians Seek To Even Series

Drop 3-2 Tilt Monday To Giants; Lemon Ripe

TUCSON, March 14—(AP)—The best that Cleveland's Indians could hope for today was to even their four-game exhibition series with the New York Giants.

Cleveland will call upon old Al Benton today in the final game at the Giants' Phoenix training camp. Big Ben, the Tribe's standout relief hurler, will be followed to the mound by Steve Gromek.

The Tribe dropped a 3-2 tilt to the National Leaguers yesterday, one Giant marker being unearned. After blasting the New Yorkers, 18-6, the previous day, Cleveland had hoped for better.

The Giants now have a 2-1 edge in the three games played. They unleashed a four-run barrage in the eighth inning of the first tilt Saturday to win, 5-3.

The Indians got their only runs yesterday in the sixth inning on successive walks to Bobby Wilson and Leo Thomas with the bases loaded. That tied the score at 2-2, but the Giants broke the deadlock in the next inning by scoring against Mike Garcia.

Bob Lemon started for Cleveland, looked impressive, allowing only one unearned run on four hits in the first four frames. Lemon, who spun 22 victories last season, whiffed three and walked two before turning the mound over to the Big Bear.

Two of the three hits off Garcia were in succession. With the score knotted 2-2 in the seventh, Bobby Hofman singled and took second as the ball rolled through center fielder Milt Nielsen. He scored easily on a single by Whitey Lockman.

Errors by Joe Gordon and Mickey Vernon in the third gave the Giants their first run.

Rookie first baseman Jack Harshman provided New York's second tally in the sixth inning, when he boomed a 400-foot homer over right center field wall. Harshman collected two of the Giants' eight hits. The Indians also collected eight safeties off three New York hurlers.

Sheldon Jones started for the Giants, followed by Lou Slaughter, a bonus southpaw. Sal Maglie finished the game for New York, allowing only two hits in three frames, and George Zuverink pitched the last two innings for the Tribe, restricting the National Leaguers to one single.

The average professional hockey team has nearly 600 hockey sticks broken by its players every season.

CCNY Five Meets Kentucky Tonite

Close Tilt Expected With New York Crew

NEW YORK, March 14—(AP)—What Coach Adolph Rupp calls the best potential quintet in Kentucky history—he's already had some of the nation's greatest—expects plenty of trouble tonight from darkhorse CCNY in the National Invitation basketball tournament.

If they're as good as the Bluegrass Baron believes, the Kentucky five, made up mostly of sophomores, has a chance to crack a mark set by Wildcat wonder teams of recent vintage. Rupp's boys won the NIT in 1946 and the NCAA in 1948 and 1949.

But classy Ed Warner will have plenty to say about Kentucky title hopes tonight. The flexible 6-foot 2½-inch Negro turned in the tournament's best performance Saturday in leading CCNY's rout of defending champion San Francisco.

The Wildcats, seeded second behind Bradley, are four-point favorites to whip the metropolitan five. Kentucky had advanced to the quarter-finals on a bye.

The Peoria, Ill., Braves, rated the nation's No. 1 team in the final Associated Press poll, defeated Syracuse, 78-66. St. John's tamed Western Kentucky, 69-60.

Two High Schools Protest Cage Losses

COLUMBUS, March 14—(AP)—Two Ohio high school basketball teams protesting their losses in district finals appeared to be getting nowhere today.

London in Class B protested after losing to Worthington, 35-34. The winning shot was made by Referee Bus McMillen but credited to Jack Woods of Worthington. H. W. Emswiler, Ohio high school athletic association commissioner, confirmed the score Saturday.

He added the two teams could replay the game but Worthington declined.

Akron St. Vincent of Class A protested its loss to Akron South, 45-42, in an overtime period. In that game the clock was stopped with one second to play in the game. A fouled St. Vincent player made a free throw putting his team one point ahead. Then the referee called a technical foul, and South tied up the score, sending the game into an overtime.

Officials in Emswiler's office said the St. Vincent protest was not valid.

Boosters Club Will Discuss Fieldhouse

The interesting subject of a fieldhouse or other enlarged athletic facilities for Salem will be discussed at a special meeting of the Salem Boosters club at 8 p. m. Thursday.

President Tim Hoppes said today he hopes for a large turnout of members so that a true reaction of the club regarding the question may be obtained. One of the possible plans up for discussion, is the possible enlargement of the Memorial building gymnasium.

The Boosters will elect a committee to work with the central committee of Mayor Harry Vincent, Atty. Charles McCorkhill and Richard Reedy, representing the Boosters.

Hoppes emphasized that members interested in the project should attend the meeting, so that a representative vote of the club may be taken.

Willie Pep To Defend Title Friday Night

HARTFORD, Conn., March 14—(AP)—Willie Pep is preparing for the 150th fight of his pro career with all the enthusiasm of a puppy chasing a stick.

The great little featherweight king defends his crown against France's rangy Ray Fenechon in Madison Square Garden Friday night. It will be the 11th featherweight championship scrap for Willie the Wisp who has been boxing for cash since 1940.

Hubbard Cage Tourney To Begin Next Monday

The annual Hubbard IOOF amateur basketball tournament will be held in the Hubbard High gym on March 20 through 25, it was announced today.

Deadline for entries is 8 p. m. Saturday. Thirty-seven trophies will be awarded. Information may be obtained by writing T. J. Wilson, 136 Christian ave., Hubbard, or by calling Hubbard 4-1727.

Taft Espouses Economy Theme

Fears Demoralizing In Continued Debt

DEFIANCE, March 14—(AP)—If the government continues to spend more than it takes in, the result could be "completely demoralizing," U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said last night.

The Ohio senior Senator's speech in the Community Auditorium was his third appearance here. Earlier yesterday he addressed Defiance College students and the Defiance Rotary Club.

He said last night:

"Once Congress accepts the policy that it doesn't have to pay back its debts, there is no limit on the extent to which the deficit might be increased. Such a policy would be completely demoralizing for our people because it is based on the impossible premise that you can have something for nothing."

He called permanent deficit spending repudiation of the national debt.

"It is no different than repudiation of (debt by) any person who goes bankrupt," he added. "The government is repudiating the value of the dollar with which its debts are to be paid."

If most of the Hoover Commission economy recommendations are adopted and if Americans make up their minds the country "simply is unable to support all the rest of the world," federal spending could be reduced, he suggested.

Taft addressed Defiance College students following a two-week college vacation caused by the coal strike. The school had been closed down because of lack of coal. He said:

"The government waited too long to recognize the coal emergency and take action under the Taft-Hartley law and then failed to use the evidence it had available in the subsequent court action."

It was his only reference to the coal strike.

Ebright

his committee have been criticizing federal government expenditures.

"Now the imprudent wastrels would eliminate Byrd and his committee which is proving conclusively to the nation that the present administration is made up of spendthrifts."

Ebright pointed to his thrifty practices while he has been treasurer of state the past 11 years.

"There can be economy in government if there is the will to do it," Ebright said. It is one of my goals and I have proven it can be done. When I became treasurer in 1938 the office of the treasurer of state had 146 employees. In the intervening 11 years revenues have doubled; disbursements have doubled; our office has taken on many new functions allocated to it by the legislature. We have assumed these new functions of government and fit them into our existing departments.

"Never in all these years have we asked the legislature for additional appropriations in order to set up new departments."

"Today we are operating the treasurer's office with all of these increased duties and double the volume not with 146 employees as of ten years ago, but with 110 employees."

"These economies would become the pattern for Ohio if I am elected governor."

Michigan Couple In Columbus Attacked

COLUMBUS, March 14—(AP)—A Michigan insurance examiner was beaten and his 49-year-old wife was raped today by a masked intruder in a downtown residential hotel.

The victims were Arthur L. Rodd, 58, of the Michigan department of insurance and Mrs. Nora Rodd, beaten with a milk bottle, suffered deep head cuts and bruises.

The assailant also robbed the Rodds. Their home is in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Obediah Burkey

COLUMBIANA, March 14—Mrs. Obediah Burkey, 79, of 340 Fairfield ave., died at 7 p. m. Monday at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lamonde, near Middleton, where she had been for the past few days.

She was born May 20, 1871, at Medina.

Surviving are four sons, Fred of Youngstown; Earl of Dearborn, Mich.; and Albert and Louis of Columbiana; two daughters, Mrs. Lamonde, at whose home she died, and Mrs. Myron Cool of R. D., Salem; 13 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Elmer Plum of Medina and Warren Plum of Signal, and two sisters, Mrs. Louis Obenauf of North Lima and Mrs. George Westbecker of Canfield. Her husband died three years ago.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Warrick Funeral home. Burial will be in the Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Minnie Truesdale

LEETONIA, March 14—Miss Minnie O. Truesdale, 79, died at midnight Monday at the Truesdale home, 63 Chestnut st., where she lived with her sister, Carrie.

Born in Leetonia, July 8, 1870, she was the daughter of James L. and Mary E. Porter Truesdale. She was a member of the Leetonia Presbyterian Church.

Survivors besides her sister, Carrie, include a niece, Mrs. Marion T. Carroll of Henderson, N. C., and nephew Fred J. Truesdale of Steubenville.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Truesdale home, in charge of Rev. J. A. King, pastor of the Leetonia Presbyterian Church, and Rev. William Snyder of Columbiana, former pastor of the Leetonia church. Interment will be in Oakdale Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday afternoon and evening at the home.

Mrs. Grover Felgar

Mrs. Agnes Syme Felgar, 60, wife of Grover Felgar of Home-worth, died Saturday night of a cerebral hemorrhage after a short illness.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Ray Hahn and Mrs. Melvin Cassidy; three sisters, Mrs. Goldie Mattie, Mrs. Sylvia Reed and Mrs. Pauline Snyder; four brothers, Elwood, Charles, Vern and Lester Syme.

Funeral service will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Myers' funeral home in Alliance.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9.

Mrs. Paul Soos

Mrs. Catherine Soos, 54, of R. D. 1, Newton Falls, died at 6:20 p. m. Monday at City Hospital. She had entered the hospital Feb. 10 for medical treatment.

Survivors include her husband, Paul; a son, Steve Soos of North Jackson and a daughter, Mrs. Carl Lurtz of Lake Milton.

WORKMEN BURIED

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 14—(AP)—Fifty tons of commercial fertilizer tumbled down on two workmen last night, killing one and critically injuring the other.

SAILING from New York to rejoin her husband, Igor, in Paris, Princess Barbara Troubetskoi, the former Barbara Hutton, tells reporters she had regained 14 pounds since returning to the U. S. The Woolworth heiress weighed 88 pounds when she arrived last September for treatment.

Weather Details

(International News Service)
 A brief respite from severe weather was given Ohio today as pedestrians and motorists continued sliding and skidding between two seasons.

But while the mercury started an upward climb above the freezing mark into the 30-35 zone, the weatherman cautioned against optimism, reminding Ohioans that March is a strange month, well-known for its sudden and severe changes.

"Today will continue bright and sunny with temperatures on the up-grade," Forecaster Milton Davis said. "The mercury will climb into the 40's tomorrow, but it will be cold again toward the end of the week," Davis added.

In spite of the sunshine and climbing mercury, however, highways, which slowed traffic to a crawl throughout Ohio yesterday, will remain ice-bound today. Lows tonight will hover near the 25-degree mark.

Hundreds of youngsters enjoyed a holiday from school in Wayne county when buses were unable to operate on rural roads.

High and low temperatures for 24 hours up until midnight:

Poor Joe—just doesn't know--

He's run down, tired all the time, feels sluggish, too. His low blood count is responsible. He doesn't know what thousands since 1879 have found out: that S.S.S. Tonic may help him enjoy new energy and pep!

S.S.S. goes straight to work where these troubles often begin, by energizing the body with rich, red blood. Get welcome relief for yourself with S.S.S. today. At all drug stores: Family size, $2. Regular size, $1.25.

21 Boy Scouts Advance In Rank In Leetonia

LEETONIA, March 14—A Boy Scout Board of Review and Court of Honor were held at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church scout headquarters with 21 boys advanced in rank and recognized for scout study and work.

Five boys passed First Class requirements. They are: John Simonds, Richard Frederick, Joe Kyser, Milan Gorman and William Bevin. Jim Jackson, a First Class Scout, was given a merit badge in airplane design.

Fourteen boys were advanced to Second Class Scouts. They are: Michael Perry, Mike Gregorino, Richard McKenzie, Jerry Girard, Clyde Carey, Fred Ludi, Larry Knepper, Clifford McFarland, Carl Mathy, Buster Cox, Frank Vespasian, Gary Barnes, James Knepper and Richard Kyser.

Following the Board of Review, the Court of Honor was held and advancements announced. Refreshments were then served.

In charge of the court were John Mulford, John Theil and Henry Nemenz. Joe Weikart is scoutmaster and Howard Beilhart assistant scoutmaster. A large group of parents attended the ceremonies.
